

NGA NATIONAL GEOSPATIAL-INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Cynthia G. Snyder Associate Director for Support

Ms. Cynthia G. Snyder is the Associate Director for Support (ADS) at the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA), synchronizing and managing NGA Human Resources, training and education, career services, leader development, protective services, security, counterintelligence, insider threat, classification management, information and records management, and facilities and installation management activities to ensure mission success and alignment with the NGA Strategy. She is also responsible for the planning and programming of NGA's business services missions to ensure agile, efficient, and effective operations in support of the core mission areas of NGA, NSG, and ASG.

Ms. Snyder formerly served as the Deputy Director for GEOINT Mission Planning and Policy for the Analysis Plans and Business Operations Group, Co-Chair of the GEOINT Analysis and Production Subcommittee (GAPSCOM), GEOCOM Subcommittee; and development and application of mission analytics to inform the NSG GEOINT Strategy and to support effective articulation of accomplishments to oversight.

Ms. Snyder's previous assignment included Department of Navy (DoN) Naval Intelligence (NAVINT) Civilian Human Capital Officer (CHCO); and the Director of the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency's (NGA) Human Development (HD) Strategies Office.

Ms. Snyder also served as NGA's Security and Installation Office of Director of Installation Operations where she managed operations of several major NGA installations. She was also responsible for the Agency's strategic space plan, space allocations, environmental protection, safety, health, personal property accountability, and general administration.

As the Architect of the Capitols Director for Congressional and External Relations, Ms. Snyder served as the Architect's and Chief Operating Officer's political strategist.

Ms. Snyder joined NGA in January 2005 after serving 25 years' active duty in the U.S. Air Force, retiring in the grade of Colonel. During her distinguished Air Force career, Ms. Snyder garnered extensive and diverse leadership and management experience after four commands and numerous installation and staff positions, to include serving as Deputy Base Commander during Iraqi Freedom. She was appointed to the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service in September 2007.

Ms. Snyder holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from Tennessee State University; a Master of Science Degree in Operations Management from the University of Arkansas; and a Master of Science Degree in National Resource Strategy from the National Defense University. Ms. Snyder is a FY2019 Presidential Rank Award Recipient.
